Course Design

The Bachelor of Fashion Design is a three-year professional degree that will prepare graduates for work in the fashion industry in various roles and contexts across national and international markets.

On successful completion of the first two years in full time study mode, students can elect to exit with an Associate Degree of Fashion Design qualification, with the skills and knowledge to work in entry level positions in the fashion industry.

Graduates of the three year degree program will acquire knowledge and skills required to work professionally as a fashion designer or other related work roles such as fashion manager, design manager, fashion merchandiser, fashion buyer and fashion stylist.

Course Learning Outcomes

Graduates of the Bachelor of Fashion Design will:

- Operate professionally on extensive and well-founded knowledge of the fashion design discipline, possess the cognitive capabilities for ongoing professional development, and apply their learning across contexts.
- Synthesise complex technical, creative and professional knowledge and skills to produce designs that successfully balance the demands of commerce and sustainability.
- Ability to independently engage in self-directed creative design projects, reflect critically on ideas, evaluate own work effectively and adapt to change.
- Promote life-long learning, the foundations of creative design practice, allowing for their transferability across diverse contexts.

Graduates of the Associate Degree of Fashion Design will:

- Demonstrate effective research, writing, visual presentation, computing, realisation and other relevant fashion design technologies to successfully communicate design concepts.
- Identify, analyse and develop creative and sustainable fashion design concepts and realised products.
- Manage self and available resources effectively to realise viable fashion design concepts and plans for specific client purpose.
- Participate in professional learning and development activities to maintain current knowledge and skills in fashion design.

Course Structure

The structure below is the typical study pattern for a full time student. In Semester 4 (Level 200) students must select two elective subjects from the elective list. In Semester 6 (Level 300) students select one elective subject which builds on the knowledge developed in one of the Level 200 electives selected in Semester 4. Therefore, the Level 300 elective chosen must be from the same discipline specialisation as one of the electives chosen in Semester 4. Availability of electives and study pattern is determined by the campus. Subjects are worth 5 or 10 credit points (CP).

Year 1 Level 100 – Foundation Design Knowledge

Semester 1

FDDES101A	Fashion design foundations (5CP)
FDDES102A	Applied colour theory (5CP)
FDREA101A	Fashion realisation 1 (10CP)
FDTEX101A	Fashion textiles (5CP)
FDVIS101A	Fashion illustration1 (10CP)
FDVIS102A	Digital visualisation (5CP)

Semester 2

FDCUL101A	Fashion design and culture (10CP)
FDDES103A	Fashion design processes (10CP)
FDREA102A	Fashion realisation 2 (10CP)
FDVIS103A	Fashion illustration 2 (10CP)

Year 2 Level 200 – Design Development

Semester 3

FDVIS201A	Fashion illustration 3 (5CP)
FDDES201A	Design for specialty markets 1 (5CP)
FDREA201A	Fashion realisation 3 (10CP)
FDTEX201A	Textile print design (10CP)
FDPFL201A	Professional fashion design practice (incorporating 105 hours of internship) (10CP)

Semester 4

FDVIS202A	Fashion illustration 4 (5CP)
FDDES202A	Design for specialty markets 2 (5CP)
FDREA202A	Fashion realisation 4 (10CP)

And two electives from the list below:

FDCOU201A	Couture studio 1 (10CP)
FDMEN201A	Menswear studio 1 (10CP)
FDPFL202A	Fashion branding strategies 1 (10CP)
FDTEX202A	Fashion textile studio 1 (10CP)
FDTLR201A	Tailoring studio 1 (10CP)

160 credit points required to complete Associate Degree of Fashion Design

Year 3 Level 300 – Design synthesis

Semester 5

FDDES301A	Fashion design studio 1 (10CP)
FDDES302A	Forming, testing and refining ideas (10CP)
FDPFL302A	Global fashion design practice (incorporating 105 hours of internship) (10CP)
FDREA301A	Fashion realisation 5 (10CP)

Semester 6

FDDES303A	Fashion design studio 2 (10CP)
FDREA302A	Fashion realisation 6 (10CP)
FDVIS301A	Digital brand communication (10CP)

And one elective from the list below:

FDCOU301A	Couture studio 2 (10CP)
FDMEN301A	Menswear studio 2 (10CP)
FDPFL301A	Fashion branding strategies 2 (10CP)
FDTEX301A	Fashion textile studio 2 (10CP)
FDTLR301A	Tailoring studio (10CP)

Overview of subject requirements

The information on the following pages provides an overview and an indicative assessment schedule for each subject in the course. It is provided for information purposes only. The Subject Guide distributed to enrolled students will detail full learning and assessment requirements for each subject.

SUBJECT: Fashion design and culture

CODE: FDCUL101A CREDIT POINTS: 10 CONTACT HRS: 4 hpw PREREQUISITES: Nil

Subject overview

In this subject students undertake contextual investigations into historic and contemporary dress, design and culture. Focusing primarily on fashion and the history of costume, the subject emphasises the appreciation of context and meaning in design, whilst introducing students to concepts of fashion evolution and design adaptation. Whilst the subject includes theoretical and practical design aspects, emphasis is placed on research and critical thinking, introducing students to the body of knowledge that supports achievement within a higher education learning environment.

SUBJECT: Fashion design foundations

CODE: FDDES101A CREDIT POINTS: 5 CONTACT HRS: 3 hpw PREREQUISITES: Nil

Subject overview

This subject introduces students to key design principles and visual concepts used in fashion design, whilst exploring the specific application of these in fashion. In undertaking these investigations students are introduced to broader content that includes knowledge of a diverse range of fashion styles, details and treatments; and the development of a fashion vocabulary.

SUBJECT: Applied colour theory

CODE: FDDES102A CREDIT POINTS: 5 CONTACT HRS: 2 hpw PREREQUISITES: Nil

Subject overview

This subject introduces students to the theoretical principles of colour and provides them with knowledge and skills to use colour in the development of original fashion concepts. Whilst colour theory directs the content of this subject, students are also encouraged to experiment with colour to gain an understanding of colour mixing to support future design development activity; and to gain an appreciation of the specific contributions that colour makes in fashion design.

SUBJECT: Fashion design processes

CODE: FDDES103A CREDIT POINTS: 10 CONTACT HRS: 5 hpw PREREQUISITES: Nil

Subject overview

In this subject students engage with established methodologies for generating creative fashion design concepts, whilst being encouraged to investigate and experiment with strategies for idea generation and creative concept development. Learning will take place in a studio environment where theoretical aspects of the subject are explored through practical application.

Subject overview

This subject introduces students to a range of foundation content relevant to the realisation of fashion design concepts. Students will learn basic principles and techniques of patternmaking and garment construction for women's wear. They are encouraged to evaluate potential realisation approaches, test specific techniques and critically evaluate their work in the context of effectively realising design concepts.

PREREQUISITES: Nil

Subject overview

This subject builds on knowledge and skills gained in subject FDREA101A Fashion realisation 1 and focuses on the knowledge and skills required for the realisation of more complex fashion garments. Whilst further exploring flat pattern making, students will be introduced to draped patternmaking approaches for specific applications. Students apply the principles learned in this subject to the realisation of an original self-directed design concept, experimenting with and extending traditional techniques as a means of supporting creative design practice.

Subject overview

This subject provides students with foundation knowledge of textiles and their performance for application in fashion design. The subject requires that the student research the scientific basis of fibres, their consequent performance characteristics and the environmental and social issues that arise from textile production. The focus then turns to the practical application of textiles to support the realisation of design concepts. Students engage with textiles in various ways to gain an understanding of how they perform in various styles and garments.

Subject overview

This subject introduces students to the knowledge and skills required for visually communicating the human form and the clothed fashion figure. It allows for an in-depth illustrative analysis of the human form to gain knowledge how clothing interacts with the body in movement. Students will concurrently explore drawing and stylisation techniques used in fashion illustration. The subject is highly practical in nature, and is designed to provide students with a solid foundation for the use of visual communication strategies for design iteration and development processes.

Subject overview

This subject is a self-directed design studio that allows the student to further explore chosen areas of specialisation introduced in level 200 studio elective subjects. This studio allows the student to undertake self-directed design research and development activity whilst exploring potential strategies for realising design intent. The investigation undertaken in this subject complements that covered in FDDES302A Forming testing and refining ideas and is designed to support the realisation of a final collection of work. This subject involves bringing together ideas into a cohesive and commercially viable collection of work. Students will engage in professional design studio practices to develop, refine, test, resource and present fashion concepts for an original collection of work.

SUBJECT: Forming, testing and refining ideas
CODE: FDDES302A	CREDIT POINTS: 10	CONTACT HRS: 4 hpw	PREREQUISITES: FDDES301A*

Subject overview

This subject builds on existing design investigations and encourages the formation of a personal design philosophy as a foundation for professional design practice, and the realisation of a final collection of work. As a means of building or refining this personal design philosophy, students identify opportunities for visual expression, explore a range of design approaches and experiment with various materials and techniques. These investigations are designed to support the consolidation of ideas for the student's final collection. The outcome of this subject is a portfolio of explorations relevant to the student's final collection and the design and realisation of a "hero piece" that explores and communicates the collection's intent.
