- 4.4.3 The investigation will determine whether, on the balance of probabilities, the reported sexual assault or sexual harassment is substantiated. If the allegations are substantiated, TAFE NSW will determine whether the conduct amounts to a breach of the student Code of Conduct or other TAFE NSW policies and procedures, including but not limited to breaches of the TAFE NSW Sexual Assault, Sex discrimination and Sexual Harassment Policy.

What is sexual assault and sex-based assault?

The term 'sexbased assault' is used to describe a range of sexual offences, from showing indecent images to another person, to kissing or touching them, as well as penetration of the person's body with a body part or object.

Sex-based assault is grouped into different types of offences:

Sexual acts: doing an act of a sexual nature with or towards another person without their consent, or making another person do an unwanted act of a sexual nature. This includes:

- a person showing another person their genitals ('flashing');
- a person sending another person an unwanted still or moving image of their own or someone else's genitals;
- making a person show another person their breasts, bottom, or genitals;
- masturbating in front of another person;
- pretending to masturbate in front of another person.

Sexual touching: kissing or touching a person's body in a sexual manner, without their consent. This includes unwanted touching of a person's breast, bottom, or genitals over the top of or under clothing that does not penetrate in any way.

Sexual assault: sexual intercourse (any form of penetration of the vagina, anus or mouth with another person's body part or object) without consent.

Aggravated sexual assault: is sexual intercourse without consent in circumstances of aggravation, for example if:

- They physically hurt or threaten to hurt the person;
- The victim-survivor is under 16 years of age;
- They use a weapon during the sexual assault;
- Other people are present and/or involved in the sexual assault;
- The victim-survivor has a severe disability;
- The abuser is an authority figure like a teacher, carer, or religious leader.

Consent: Sexual consent is when a person freely and voluntarily agrees to have sex or engage in any kind of sexual activity. A person cannot consent if they lack the capacity to understand what is taking place because of a cognitive disability, or because they are under 16. A person also cannot consent if they are:

- asleep or unconscious;
- significantly affected by drugs or alcohol;
- intimidated, coerced, or threatened;
- held against their will; or
- tricked, or under a mistaken belief, about the identity of the other person involved.
