Whether you prefer to be on the seas, in the sky, or staying grounded, careers in aviation and maritime are on the rise. Qualified employees are in demand and there is great scope for career advancement across a wide range of work environments. From pilots and cabin crew, to deckhands and marine engineers, a range of dynamic and exciting careers, with options to travel the world and work internationally, all await you.

The aviation and maritime industries are truly international, playing a large part in global business and management. TAFE NSW aviation and maritime courses are delivered by professionals who have the industry experience and connections to help you launch your career or take it even higher. You will train in practical and interactive learning environments that include digital marine simulators and full-motion flight simulators. With hands-on training designed by industry leaders, you’ll be prepared to navigate a successful career – whether it’s on the ground, in the air, or on the water.

State-of-the-art facilities
Apply your skills in interactive learning environments, including simulated workspaces and field trips on vessels.

BUILDING & CONSTRUCTION

More than half the world’s population live in cities. With the increase in urbanisation and continued growth in population, the development of our environment into liveable and sustainable spaces that will accommodate diverse and growing communities, is vital.

There are countless career options within the building, construction, and property industries. And whether you are looking for an apprenticeship, are currently employed, or looking to make a career change, you can choose from a variety of trades and disciplines, and start at a level to suit you. Study for a career in this area, and you will have the chance to design, innovate, create, and use your skills to help build and shape the future of Australia.

Strong industry connections
TAFE NSW maintains partnerships with major projects such as Western Sydney Airport Skills Exchange, as well as peak industry bodies including the Master Builders Association, Housing Industry Association, and Australian Property Institute.

People have always collected, catalogued, and treasured information and data. In today’s digital, information-rich world, library and information service professionals play an increasingly vital role, by ensuring equal access to resources, providing spaces for people to connect and share information, and by instilling a love of learning.

Sharing knowledge makes us all grow together. Studying library and information services can lead to a career in both the public and private sectors, including roles in business, media, government, museums, galleries, and in education institutions.

TAFE NSW teachers and staff have specialist experience across a range of library operations, including cataloguing, database management, digitisation, web design, collection development, and reader advisory and reference services. Our industry placement options are supported by hundreds of libraries and facilities, so you can put your learning into practice.

Strong industry connections

The TAFE NSW Diploma of Library and Information Services is accredited by the Australian Library and Information Association, the national professional organisation for the Australian library and information services sector.

LOGISTICS & WAREHOUSING

Ensuring the right thing is in the right place, at the right time, is big business. Logistics is an integral part of Australia’s supply chain and a crucial driver of economic growth, employing more than 1.2 million people across warehousing, storage, handling, and distribution.

This growth industry continues to respond to the challenges of increased efficiencies in the digital age, powering everything from small business to iconic retailers, large-scale manufacturers, and everything in between.

Coordinated logistics, supply-chain management, and warehousing solutions are integral to any organisation trying to reduce costs and run efficiently. Get your career moving with a logistics and warehousing course at TAFE NSW, and be prepared for roles such as logistics manager, operations manager, customs broker, warehouse manager, or storeperson. And since this sector embraces every other sector and organisation, the opportunities are endless.

Fast track your career

If you are already working in the logistics and warehousing industry and want to build on your existing career, you can apply for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL), so you don’t have to study things that you already know.

Nationally Recognised Training is an accredited program of study that leads to vocational qualifications and credentials that are recognised across Australia. Only registered training organisations that meet government quality standards can provide nationally recognised training. It includes accredited courses and endorsed training package qualifications.

This guide provides a snapshot of courses and programs planned to be offered by TAFE NSW in 2022. The information is correct at the time of printing (July 2021), however, because our courses are constantly updated in response to changing industry and community needs, it is possible some changes have occurred.
