

SELLING THE DREAM

Xavier loves meeting people, and he volunteers with local charities because he enjoys helping out in the local community. Xavier has always planned to study a business degree, but he would like to have some practical experience in the retail industry first.

While still at school, Xavier completed the Certificate III in Retail (SIR30216) as a TVET course, and recently, he had an interview with a large retail store for a Certificate IV in Retail Management (SIR40316) traineeship.

If successful, this will allow him to work in the industry while achieving his Certificate IV qualification before commencing a business degree.

Additional options open to Xavier may include pathways to:

- retail and store management
- a merchandise manager role
- higher education business streams, including accounting and finance, human resources, and marketing.
