Established in 2014 as the NSW Government's lead agency for sport, the Office of Sport was created to bring together divisions and entities related to sport and active recreation. Their vision - to create a vibrant and valued sport and active recreation sector that enhances the lives of the people of NSW. Key to this vision is their people.

An organisational survey in 2017 highlighted variances in leadership and management styles and capabilities throughout the agency. Working towards their strategic objective of an employee engagement rating of 75% by 2020, the Office of Sport contacted TAFE Enterprise to implement a training solution.

Within six weeks of initial discussions TAFE Enterprise had devised a customised Certificate IV in Leadership and Management, specific to the needs of the Office of Sport.
