STUDY COMMITMENT

This is a Full-Time Face to face course. You will need to attend approximately 27.5 hours of class, over 4 days a week, for 17 weeks. As well as the in-class component, you will need to complete approximately 4 hours of other study per week.

You may also be required to complete approximately 6 hours of additional study each week outside of class hours, including research, assessment preparation, and arts practice.

IS THIS COURSE RIGHT FOR YOU?

This course offering is designed for:

- Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander learners who wish to use a range of skills and techniques to produce arts and craft works. The course will teach students the skills they need to develop their ability to communicate their ideas. Starting with understanding their own Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander identity, they will learn to produce work through their knowledge of history and theory of art. This indigenous arts course will provide students with a range of skills they can select, adapt and transfer to different situations: The local cultural knowledge necessary to achieve some of the units of competency in this qualification may only be accessible to Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people. Students will learn a range of arts practices, including: painting, drawing, sculpture, ceramics, woodworking, printmaking, and photography.

Attendance

To keep you safe while studying, some of our face to face classes may be replaced with online or connected learning. We have also modified our face to face classes to meet physical distancing requirements and increased cleaning on campus. As restrictions ease, the way you attend your class may change again. If work placement and the demonstration of practical skills are requirements of your course, due to the impacts of COVID 19 there may be a delay or modification in being able to undertake these aspects of your course in the planned timeframe. Be assured, we'll keep you informed every step of the way.

This course is currently scheduled on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9.00am to 4.00pm. This timetable may change and will be confirmed by your teacher.

Fee Details
